

ART GUILD INSIDER

CELEBRATING 50 YEARS!

MAY 2026

NEWSLETTER OF THE WILLIAMSON COUNTY ART GUILD

WWW.WCAGTX.ORG

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Lynn Kessel, President lynn.president@wcagtx.org

This is my last note to you through the newsletter, my friends. Once again, thank you for the opportunity to serve you these last 3 terms. May you continue to thrive as a vibrant charitable organization. May you see new opportunities for the guild to support the arts in Williamson County. And may each and every one of you continue to create with abandon!

Lynn

Lynn Kessel, President
Williamson County Art Guild

I'm still catching my breath from a very busy April for WCAG!

We kicked the month off with the gallery's First Friday reception as well as a special event the next evening (more details in the newsletter). Both events brought in loads of new visitors to the gallery, which is what it takes to make the community aware of the guild and gallery.

Then the Spring Art Stroll took place April 17. We had record visitors to the gallery, enticed by incredible art demos, plein air artists throughout town, art vendors, a student show, and music. It was an incredible time to meet new artists, view artwork, and toss around new ideas.

Then we had another successful exhibit at the National Crime Victim Rights' Week Ceremony April 20-23, and WCAG received an award.

The month ended with the Georgetown Red Poppy Festival. WCAG had a couple artists exhibiting outside the gallery that Saturday, and we had many new visitors to the gallery!

BOARD ELECTIONS UPCOMING

Nominees to be voted upon in May

The end of our WCAG fiscal year is coming up, and that means board elections!

The WCAG nominating committee has considered nominations for the board positions listed in the by-laws and visible on the WCAG website. They are preparing a slate of nominees upon which all members are invited to vote at the general meeting on May 11th. Please be sure to attend the meeting to make your voice heard!

OUR 50TH YEAR CELEBRATION CONTINUES INTO MAY

The year is moving fast—here's what to know about what's ahead!

As we move into May, WCAG's 50th anniversary year continues with many more events ahead! We hope you'll join us. Please check our website, newsletters, and event flyers for updates as dates may shift.

One important update: due to state regulations limiting raffles, April marked our final art raffle for the year. Going forward, we'll feature a donated artwork each month and hold a drawing for it at the First Friday reception. Instead of purchasing tickets, visitors and members may simply enter their name for a chance to win.

May

- Free drawing for a painting by Nancy Brown
- The Big Picture Show: large scale art exhibit at the WCAG Gallery
- Gallery reception on May 1st

June

- Free drawing for a photograph by Patrick O'Brien
- Gallery reception on June 5th

July

- Free drawing for a painting by Sue Bishop
- Gallery reception on July 3rd
- Theme for WCAG gallery exhibit: America's 250th birthday, patriotism, etc.

Your old paintbrushes and paint cans requested!

We are looking for old, used, dirty, clean, new, or unusable materials that we can repurpose into creative decorations for the Peace, Love, and Art Affair!

What we need:

- Old paintbrushes (any condition, any size up to 3")
- Empty/nearly empty paint cans and containers (quart or gallon only)

Our goal: 200–300 brushes and about 30 containers.

Drop off donations at member meetings or at the WCAG Gallery during regular hours (Thu–Sat 11am–7pm, Sun 1–5pm) and help us make something fun and festive!

August

- Free drawing for a numbered print by Dalhart Windberg
- Gallery reception on August 7th

September

December

- Free drawing for a painting by TBA
- Gallery reception and holiday party on December 4th
- Large member juried show continues

ART GIVEAWAY, EVERY MONTH!

Come see May's featured artwork

A featured artwork is displayed and given away each month during our anniversary year.

A new featured piece is now on display in the gallery's front window as part of WCAG's 50th Anniversary celebration series. May's selection is Tuscan Sunflowers by Nancy Brandt Brown. This vibrant watercolor measures 26" x 31" and is valued at $500.

Nancy earned her Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from West Texas State University in 1977 and continued to paint and study throughout her life. After moving to Georgetown, Texas, she devoted her time and energy to painting, teaching, and exhibiting her works. While primarily a watercolor artist, she also worked in acrylic and oil. Her subject matter included flowers, figures, and other things organic, using color, patterns, and shapes to create strong compositions and compelling paintings. Her studio was in her home in Georgetown and her work continues to be exhibited at Framer's Gallery. Nancy passed away in 2022.

As we continue our anniversary year, this month's featured artwork will be given away through a drawing at the First Friday reception in June. Be sure to stop by, take a look, and add your name for a chance to take this beautiful piece home.

Nancy Brown's "Tuscan Sunflowers" will be given to the winner of the drawing held at the WCAG Gallery's First Friday reception in June.

PEACE, LOVE, AND ART AFFAIR PLANS ARE TAKING SHAPE!

Plans for WCAG's 50th anniversary celebration continue to take shape as we look ahead to the Peace, Love, and Art Affair this September. There's still plenty of opportunity to get involved as we bring this celebration together. If you'd like to lend a hand or share ideas, we'd love to have you join us at the next planning meeting. We'll gather on Monday, May 11th, at 1:30pm in the Rock Street Gallery.

We're also pleased to share that March's raffle winner of Verna McConnell's The Brook Finds Its Way was Mike Thomas. Congratulations, Mike!

ROCK STREET GALLERY SHINES DURING SPRING ART STROLL

Live demos, interactive art, and a full house at WCAG's Rock Street Gallery

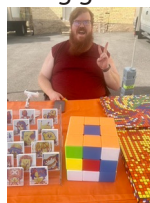

Last month's Art Stroll brought a surge of energy to the Rock Street Gallery, which served as a vibrant stop along the route. We welcomed a record number of visitors drawn by live demonstrations, plein air artists throughout town, art vendors, student exhibits, and music.

Inside the gallery, Courtney Brewer and Sasha Lockamy led a dynamic live painting demo while inviting guests to add their own creative touches to a collaborative canvas. The result was a lively, hands-on experience that encouraged participation and sparked conversation.

With strong art sales and a steady flow of new faces, the WCAG Gallery stop during the Georgetown Spring Art Stroll was an inspiring event that truly reflected the spirit of our creative community.

PLEIN AIR PAINT OUT

WCAG artists head outdoors!

Artists gathered for an evening of outdoor painting during the Art Stroll.

Gwen Fridel organized a wonderful plein air event for WCAG during the Georgetown Art Stroll, bringing artists together for an evening of outdoor painting. More than a dozen participants set up around the Square and near the gallery, creating artwork as curious passersby looked on.

The evening wrapped up with a "throw down" at the gallery, where artists shared their finished pieces, revealing an impressive variety of work and plenty of creative energy. It was a fun and successful event that highlighted both the talent and camaraderie within the Guild.

WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT

by Anonymous

A true story to share with all of you.

This is not about me, so I will remain anonymous. I dropped by to see how our WCAG St. David's Georgetown Hospital exhibit turned out and where my entry ended up being hung. The exhibit is exceptional with many larger pieces this year!

At that moment there was nobody else in the gallery hall. I was alone and unidentifiable as a participant. I walked way down toward one end to make a phone photo of the overall exhibit.

Just as I snapped my photo, an older woman (I had never seen before) stepped out into the hallway from another corridor and began walking along the row of art pieces along her path away from where I was standing. She quickly scanned each piece as she proceeded, until, quite a way down from me, she abruptly stopped (of all places) right in front of my piece. With a loud call down the hall to me (the only other person there), "Oh have you seen this one, I love this one!" Then she turned and continued down to the far end of the hall and exited without commenting on any other piece in the exhibit.

Of course, each person has their own preferences and opinions, but (as a person of faith) I perceived the timing and coincidence of this incredible experience to be a "God Thing" affirmation that my intent with my entry to this Healing Arts exhibit had been achieved. I made her day, and she made my day! And that's what sharing our art is all about.

NCVRW EXHIBIT

Providing art to help others heal

This year's NCVRW Exhibit and Ceremony was an inspiring event!

From April 20–23, WCAG partnered once again with the Williamson County Attorney's Office for the National Crime Victims' Rights Week Ceremony and Art Exhibit. This annual event, held in Georgetown, brings the community together to recognize those who support victims of crime and to promote awareness, compassion, and advocacy.

For the second year, WCAG artists contributed meaningful work to the exhibit, with 21 pieces displayed from 11 member artists. The artwork reflected this year's theme, "Listen. Act. Advocate," highlighting the resilience and strength of those impacted by crime and the importance of creating spaces where their voices are heard.

The response from attendees was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing appreciation for the powerful role art played in the exhibit. In recognition of WCAG's continued partnership and service, the County Attorney's Office honored the Guild with a "Hall of Fame" award for outstanding support of victims of crime.

CLASS HIGHLIGHTS

Anca Thomas's April Weaving Class

Creative threads come together in freeform weaving class!

Participants met on April 11th for Anca Thomas's Freeform Weaving class, part of the WCAG Art Workshop Series. Students explored texture, color, and creativity on a small loom. With all materials provided, including looms and a variety of fibers, students were free to experiment and develop their own unique designs. By the end of the session, each participant completed a one-of-a-kind woven piece to take home—an expression of their individual style and a tangible reminder of a fun and inspiring experience.

We have more classes coming up! See page 7 for a current list of WCAG classes.

Mesquite Creek Outfitters FEATURED ARTIST

Mary Smith Caldwell paints the natural world with a storyteller's eye.

Mary Smith Caldwell is a Texan from birth and loves painting the beautiful scenes around her home in Georgetown. She graduated from the University of Texas in Austin with a degree in teaching and a minor in art.

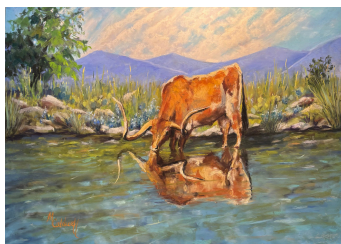

Mary started pursuing her art career in 2002 in Marble Falls, Texas. Pastel is her favorite medium, and she enjoys dabbling in acrylics as well.

Mary enjoys painting everything in nature as well as portraits (animals and people). She has taken lessons at UT, Laguna Gloria, and from several well-known artists – she is currently under the instruction of Marla Baggetta.

Mary loves to paint pictures that tell a story and evoke feelings of peace and happiness. She says, "I've either been to the places I paint – or I would love to go there some day!"

Mary's artwork will be on display at Mesquite Creek Outfitters from April 28th to June 8th.

THE APRIL MEETING IN REVIEW

Social Media for Artists with Allison Eve Walker

In April's meeting, Tammy Pierce led participants through a hands-on experience painting bluebonnets and learning the meaning behind the art.

April's members' meeting featured an engaging presentation by Tammy Pierce, who is currently studying to become a certified art therapist. Tammy shared how art can carry deep personal meaning, reflecting on the work of Julian Onderdonk and how his paintings resonate with her own love for the Texas landscape.

She demonstrated her approach to painting bluebonnets, offering helpful techniques and insights drawn from her own experience.

Tammy also shared examples of her work on both glass and canvas, noting that her bluebonnet paintings have been among her most popular and widely collected pieces. Following the demonstration, members had the opportunity to try the technique themselves, creating their own bluebonnet studies.

After the presentation, members participated in the monthly challenge and entered a drawing for a free $10 exhibit entry. Congratulations to Tammy Pierce, who not only led the evening's presentation but also won the April drawing!

UPCOMING MEMBERS' MEETING

Next meeting on Monday, May 11th

Join us for an interesting discussion about web design for artists!

All are invited to our May meeting on May 11th at 6:30 pm in the Friends Room at the Georgetown Public Library. Note that this month's meeting takes place on a Monday rather than our usual first Tuesday due to scheduling conflicts at the library.

This month's presentation focuses on Web Design for Artists. Our guest presenter, Kyle Wright, known as "Kyle Cubes" to his Instagram and YouTube followers, creates striking mosaic artwork through the careful arrangement of Rubik's Cubes.

In addition to his creative work, Kyle brings years of experience in designing and building websites. He'll share practical insights on how artists can create an effective online presence, showcase their work, and connect with a broader audience.

Whether you're starting from scratch or looking to improve your current website, this presentation will offer helpful ideas and approachable strategies. We hope you'll join us for this informative presentation!

And don't forget—the challenge theme for May is The Internet. Bring a piece to share and enter a drawing to receive a free $10 entry into the next member exhibit at the WCAG Gallery!

MOSAIC ART WITH A MODERN TWIST

Kyle Wright: WCAG's May Artist of the Month

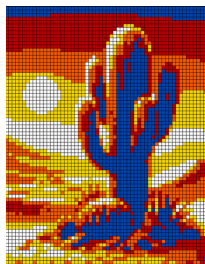

Kyle Wright transforms structure and creativity into striking cube mosaics inspired by pop culture.

Kyle Wright, known online as Kyle Cubes, is a Rubik's Cube mosaic artist who transforms hundreds of mini cubes into vibrant portraits of anime, comic, and pop-culture characters. In 2024, after being diagnosed with autism as an adult, Kyle began searching for a creative outlet that matched his love for structure, focus, and routine. What started as an experiment with his first set of 100 mini Rubik's Cubes quickly became a passion. By arranging the cubes into large mosaics, Kyle discovered a unique artistic voice that blends precision, patience, and imagination.

Today, Kyle shares his creations online, inspiring a growing community of artists, collectors, and fans who are drawn to the joy and creativity of cube mosaics.

Supported by his wife Cammy—who often builds and designs mosaics alongside him—Kyle continues to expand his work while raising their two children and spreading positivity through art. Through every piece he creates, Kyle carries a simple but meaningful message for his community: "Know That You Are Loved."

Be sure to stop by WCAG's Rock Street Gallery this month, starting May 1st, to experience Kyle's distinctive work in person, and connect with him online at @kylecubes or kylecubes.com.

MAY GALLERY RECEPTION

Big art and live music at the Rock Street Gallery

Come enjoy this First Friday's fresh mix of big artwork, great music, and an exciting new giveaway!

Join us on Friday, May 1, from 5–7 pm for WCAG's First Friday reception at the Rock Street Gallery. This month brings a slightly different feel, with new experiences alongside the welcoming atmosphere you know and enjoy.

Our special exhibit, The Big Picture Show, features large-format artwork that fills the gallery with bold scale and visual impact. There will be refreshments, with beer provided by a local brewery, while live music from About the Music sets the tone for a relaxed and engaging evening. And, new this month, we'll also hold a door prize drawing for a beautiful piece of artwork by Nancy Brandt Brown. Be sure to stop by, take in the art, and enter the drawing for your chance to bring a beautiful piece home!

APRIL FIRST FRIDAY BRINGS THE GALLERY TO LIFE

Music, conversation, and fresh artwork filled the gallery.

April's First Friday reception welcomed members and guests to the Rock Street Gallery for an engaging and vibrant evening. Visitors enjoyed exploring a fresh collection of pieces by WCAG artists, with a wide range of styles and subjects on display. We also celebrated our April People's Choice winners.

LaWann Tull's painting "Sonata of Spring"

First place was awarded to Sonata of Spring by LaWann Tull, and second place to Misty Lake by

Linda Campbell's painting "Misty Lake"

Linda Campbell. Congratulations to both artists for their well-deserved recognition!

Refreshments, beer provided by a local brewery, and live music by Lizette Wong and Chirag Gokani all combined to create a warm and inviting atmosphere for the evening.

Thank you to all who joined us. Each First Friday is a reminder of what makes WCAG so special!

A SWEET STOP AT THE GALLERY

Gallery welcomes visitors during special reception

On April 4th, the WCAG Gallery became the dessert stop for Aly and Ryan's progressive reception trail! Lots of their family and friends stopped by for refreshments and also viewed the artwork. We had lots of new visitors from Austin, Houston, Arizona and even Switzerland....and 7 pieces of art sold during that time. The visitors were impressed with the gallery and the local art!

ART CLASSES/WORKSHOPS

Take advantage and sharpen your skills

Graphite/Pencil Drawing Masterclass

In this class by Debra Soule, learn drawing techniques that take your artwork to the next level! Pencil drawing is the basic training ground for core art skills: light-to-dark value control, textures, and composition. Elevate your drawing skills and improve your underdrawings for finished work in any medium.

Date/time: Saturdays May 9th, 16th, and 23rd; 9:30am - 12noon

Location: The Nest, 2201 Old Airport Rd., Georgetown

Number of sessions: 3

Cost: $185 for WCAG members or $195 for non-members;

Supply list will be sent before first class

Student level: Beginner to Intermediate

Contact: To enroll or ask questions, contact Debra Soule at djsoule@protonmail.com or 512-888-3895.

Expressive Birds in Mixed Media

Let nature inspire you! Bring your favorite bird photo or use one provided and create a lively mixed media bird painting. In this workshop by Jessica Cook, we'll use acrylic paint, charcoal, and a few fun extras to bring your bird to life. You'll start with some easy sketching and then build up layers of color and expressive marks. We'll focus on capturing the personality and movement of your bird rather than making it perfect, so you can loosen up and enjoy the process. By the end of the session, you'll have a small finished piece on quality paper.

Date/time: Saturday June 6th, 10am - 1pm

Location: The Nest, 2201 Old Airport Rd., Georgetown

Number of sessions: 1

Cost: $60 for WCAG members or $70 for non-members; Supply list will be sent before first class

Student level: All levels welcome, but some painting experience is helpful

Contact: To enroll or ask questions, contact Jessica Cook at jessica@jessicacook.com or 404-434-9661.
